

RELEVANT INFORMATION

The Financial Superintendency authorizes the transaction through which Grupo Argos shareholders will receive COP 10.8 trillion in Grupo Sura shares

- Grupo Argos shareholders will also see their economic rights in the company increase by more than 20% once the Spin-Off Project is executed.
- The Colombian capital market will benefit from improved float and liquidity conditions for the company, as well as from its enhanced potential to attract additional investors and capital.

Grupo Argos announces that today the Financial Superintendency of Colombia authorized Cementos Argos, Grupo Argos, and Grupo Sura to implement the Spin-Off Project approved by Grupo Argos' Shareholders' Meeting on March 27, 2025, as well as by the Shareholders' Meetings of Cementos Argos and Grupo Sura on March 25 and 28, respectively.

With the regulator's authorization, a decisive step is taken toward completing this transaction, which aims to concentrate the company exclusively on its infrastructure and building materials businesses. Grupo Argos shareholders will retain their current shares — which will increase by more than 20% in the company's capital — and will also receive 0.23 shares of Grupo Sura for each Grupo Argos share they hold.

By way of illustration, a shareholder with 100 Grupo Argos shares will see their economic interest in the company — now focused entirely on infrastructure and building materials — grow by more than 20%, and will additionally receive 23 Grupo Sura shares as a result of the spin-off. As part of the transaction, Grupo Argos shareholders will receive Grupo Sura shares with a total book value of COP 10.8 trillion.

"This authorization reaffirms the principles that guided the design of this transaction: transparency, equitable treatment for all shareholders, and financial and legal efficiency. This milestone will foster a virtuous cycle that benefits shareholders, the market, and the company by simplifying the shareholding structure and enhancing value disclosure, as the organization will be 100% focused on building materials and infrastructure, with just the cash held by Cementos Argos equivalent to COP 9,500 per Grupo Argos share. Moreover, it strengthens our ability to attract capital to execute an ambitious portfolio of projects."

Jorge Mario Velásquez
President of Grupo Argos

The execution of the transaction does not require any action from the company's shareholders. All details of the process will be disclosed through the Relevant Information mechanism and the bulletins of the Colombian Stock Exchange (BVC). Grupo Argos' Investor Relations team is available to address any questions shareholders may have.

The transaction details can be consulted at the following link: <https://youtu.be/kJi1-wHjla>

Medellín, June 27, 2025